EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT/COMMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

This application is in condition for allowance except for the presence of claims 24-39 to an invention non-elected without traverse. Accordingly, claims 24-39 been cancelled.

The title has been changed as follows:

--Display device having island-shaped conductor for repairing line disconnection--

Comment:

Figs. 7-11 should be labeled as --prior art--.

Election/Restrictions

1. Claim 21 depends from the allowable claim 1 and thus claim 21 is rejoined.

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1 and 21-23 are allowed.

3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

4. The prior arts of record do not anticipate or render obvious to one skilled in the art a display device having a plurality of pixels, comprising various elements as claimed, more specifically a plurality of island-shaped conductors for repairing gate line disconnection being provided above the gate line with the first insulating layer interposed therebetween, the plurality of island-shaped conductors provided between and adjacent the source line, a second insulating layer on the plurality of island-shaped conductors and a pixel electrode partially overlapping the plurality of island-shaped conductors provided above the switching element with the second insulating layer interposed between and connected with the switching element via the through hole.

5. The references cited in the IDS filed on 04/26/05 do not read on the claimed invention. For example, US 202/0047977 discloses an in-plane switching type LCD device wherein the data line is repaired by forming dummy patterns. US 2001/0013910 an LCD device includes at least one repair line to repair line defects wherein the first repair line extends from the data line and crosses the gate line and a second repair line overlaps the free end of the first repair line and the data line. US 2002/0050967 is related to an invention to repair drain signal lines wherein a gate signal line and a repair conductive layer is formed on a substrate and a gate insulating layer is formed to cover the gate lines and the repair conductive layer. USPAT 5,969,779 discloses a liquid crystal display having repair lines. EP 0373586 discloses a liquid crystal display device wherein the broken source lines are repaired by connecting the repair conductive layer at both sides of the broken portion by laser welding. However, none of the above references alone or in combination teach or suggest the claimed display device wherein a plurality of island-shaped conductors for repairing gate line disconnection being provided above the gate line with the first insulating layer interposed therebetween, the plurality of island-shaped conductors provided between and adjacent the source line, a second insulating layer on the plurality of island-shaped conductors and a pixel electrode partially overlapping the plurality of island-shaped conductors provided above the switching element with the second insulating layer interposed between and connected with the switching element via the through hole.

6. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
